

Library News
February 2018
Books relating to King Arthur

A fascinating and informative Short Course on King Arthur was presented in October and November 2017 by Michael Gallagher. At the conclusion of the course two books were generously donated to our library:

The Fall of Arthur by J.R.R.Tolkien. Donated by Michael Gallagher

The only venture by Tolkien into the legends of Arthur King of Britain and a review states that it may well be regarded as Tolkien's finest achievement in the use of the Old English alliterative metre.

The Prince and the Pilgrim by Mary Stewart. Donated by Mary Fry

This is the fifth novel of Mary Stewart's portrayal of the world of King Arthur's Britain.

Another book about King Arthur was already in our library: The Betrayal of Arthur by Sara Douglas, an exploration of Arthurian legend.

Barbara McDougall