

Library News

April 2019

The review of library books is continuing.

A new section, Classical Literature has been organised on the shelves below the Quarto (large books) shelf. Classical Literature contains books by Charles Dickens, Henry Lawson, Somerset Maugham and others and books from this section are ready to be borrowed.

All shelves will soon have new and larger labels.

Recent Additions:

The Great Courses: Understanding the Secrets of Human Perception, presented by Prof. Peter M. Vishton. It consists of two volumes of audio discs, except that disc number 4 is missing.

Karobran, by Monica Clare, the first novel written by an Aboriginal woman. It is partly autobiographical.

The Girl on the Train, by Paula Hawkins, a novel on which a movie of the same name was based.

To Catch a King, by Jack Higgins, a novel set in the time when England was preparing for probable invasion in WW2.
